FOR SALE.

The Janesville Gazette Office.

The undersigned intending to change his base of operating, to an active interest in the Burr Robbins' and Corbin Circus and Menagerie, now offers the Gazette for sale. The paper is one of the oldest and best in the West, and never doing so good a business as at the present time. For further particulars address R. L. COLVIN, Manager, Janesville, Wis., Dec. 23, 1892.

—There will be a Dickens of a time in town next week.

—Sheriff-elect R. B. Harper was in the city to-day, attending to some business connected with the sheriff's office.

—Eleven ladies and twenty-eight gentlemen have advertised letters at the postoffice to-day, as noticed elsewhere in the Gazette.

—There were seventy-seven performances given in this city during the present year by traveling companies, fifteen more than last year.

—The next regular meeting night of the common council will fall on New Years, but as that is a legal holiday, there will probably be no meeting of that body on that day.

—The Helen Coleman "Widow Belotti" company will not give a performance at the opera house this evening as advertised. We understand that the company has disbanded.

—Mrs. Wheeler S. Bowen, of Yankton, Dakota, is in the city, and is the guest of her brother Mr. George Davis. She is most cordially greeted by a host of warm friends in Janesville.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Ann Irwin took place at two o'clock this afternoon, from Christ church, Rev. C. M. Pullen officiating. The remains were laid at rest in Oakhill cemetery.

—No arrests were made by the police force last night, the city being very free from disturbance of any kind, considering the crowds in the streets, and saloons, on the occasion of the holidays.

—The Messrs. Valentine brothers, of the Western school of telegraphy, have received orders during the past week for seven telegraph operators for the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba railroad.

—Mr. J. M. Hyde, general agent of the Alvin Joslyn Comedy Co., was in the city to-day, making arrangements for the appearance of that organization at the opera house on the evening of January 6th, 1893.

—Andrew Johnson, a native of Belgium, and who has been in America only about one year, was sent to the county poor house yesterday, for three months upon his own application, by the municipal court.

—Mr. Sheffield, the man injured by the pile driver yesterday morning, is yet alive. He is suffering severe pain in the chest, otherwise his condition is very favorable. There was a report on the street at noon that he was dead, but the above was his true condition at three o'clock.

—There is considerable talk of arranging for a Burns' festival on the 25th of January. The great success of this entertainment last year induces many of the admirers of the Scottish bard to again move in the direction of getting up a festival this winter.

—County Treasurer Miles did a very good cash business to-day for the state and county, in the way of receiving money for taxes, having received for the sum of $3,781.04, as follows: Milton, $2,220; Harmony, $535; town of Janesville, $1,026.

—The smoothie and slippery stone sidewalk in front of Tullman's block, on West Milwaukee street, has been receiving the attention of the stone-cutters for a day or two past, and is now much improved, and pedestrians are not so apt to fall when passing over it.

—The little boys who are in the habit of monopolizing the sidewalk and cross walks with their hand-sleds, thereby blocking the walks and streets, will do well to keep at least one eye on the lookout for Marshal Hogan, as he is determined to put a stop to this growing nuisance.

—The Racine News: "Telephoning between Milwaukee and Chicago, and all along the line between both cities is quite lively these days. Connection is now made with Rockford, and by little trouble a through message may be sent to Janesville, Beloit or Johnston from Racine."

—Those who expect to receive New Year's calls, and who desire to have the same known, are requested to leave their names at the Gazette office, or send them by mail, so that they will reach us at an early hour as possible, in order that they may be published in Saturday evening's Gazette.

—The directors of the Janesville cotton factory held their usual stated business meeting at the factory building yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of attending to the regular business of the company. There was no meeting of stockholders at the Myers house yesterday, as has been reported; that body will not be convened until late in January.

—We are requested to give notice that any ladies or gentlemen having pictures, or claims which they can present to the public library, they will be thankfully received by the ladies who have the library in charge. Pictures are a good thing for ornament and claims are a necessity. The library rooms will probably be opened in two weeks.

—The Madison Journal has the following item in relation to the establishment of an institution for the care of disabled, railroad men, which has long been needed in this state: "Railroad men throughout the state have been discussing for some time a plan for a hospital for disabled railroad employees to be established at some central point, as Madison, for example, which now possesses more roads than any city in the state, except Milwaukee, over which city it has the advantage of a central location."

—Messrs. R. and M. Valentine are feeling happy and at now, on account of the rapid advance in the price of real estate in Minneapolis. In 1874 they purchased ten acres of land about two and a half miles north of the postoffice in that city, for which they paid $3,000. In October last they received an offer of $2,500 for the same land. This offer gave them the "blues," but concluded to hold it a little longer. They have just refused another offer of $13,000 for the same property. The city has taken a sudden growth in the direction of this property, and they now claim that they will soon realize at least $20,000, at which figure they hold the property.

—The social re-union of the members of the grand army post and their families, which will be given at the rooms of the W. H. Sargent Post No. 30, to-morrow evening, will be one of the best of the season, and, owing to the extra work to be done by the post during the winter, will probably be the last to be given this season. No regular programme has been announced, but we are informed that the entertainment will not be lacking in interest, and that all who are lucky enough to gain admission will be happily entertained. Owing to the limited room and seating capacity, the social will be confined strictly to the members and their families.

—To-morrow evening, occurs the seventh anniversary of Crystal Temple of Honor No. 32, of this city, and the members of that organization propose to celebrate the evening by a social reunion of the members and their families at their hall in the Judd block on North Main street. Although this society has had a greater number of members than at present, yet there never was a time when it has been in a better condition to do good work in the temperance cause than now. The treasury is full, the society out of debt, and they have sufficient income to meet all demands and prosecute their good work. They propose to have a royal good social to-morrow evening, and invite all members to attend with their families.

Not Dead, but playing Seven-up.

The State Journal of last evening contained the following death notice: "Lote" Taylor Dead.—The news is received that "Lote" Taylor, the humorous railway catting house keeper at Clinton Junction died suddenly of heart disease at Watertown yesterday.

The editor of the Gazette telegraphed to Clinton to-day to ascertain whether the above report was true or not, and this afternoon the following characteristic answer was received.

To the Editor of the Gazette:
Lote Taylor has been playing seven-up all day. Not very dead.
J. B. Dow.

Funeral of Mr. White.

The funeral of the late Jackman White took place at the Congregational church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. D. F. Davies, conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. A little bottle costs nothing.
